HOOTEST AD SPACE IN TIMES SQUARE MAY BE ON TOURISTS' CAMERAS

Advertisers have long been drawn to Times Square as a valuable place to reach consumers, paying hundreds of thousands of dollars for space on billboards and blaring video screens, reports The New York Times.
But recently they have discovered that down on the ground, new technology has given low cost, face-to-face marketing campaigns something of a cutting edge as consumers spread their messages on the Internet.

... As a result of the growing popularity of consumer-generated pictures, videos and e-mail messages on Internet sites like YouTube and MySpace, advertisers are getting consumers to essentially do their jobs for them.
When Target, the discount store operator, suspended the magician David Blaine above Times Square for two days during the week of Thanksgiving, videos shot by viewers were posted on YouTube and viewed more than 19,300 times.

On sites like YouTube, Flickr and MySpace, an army of tourists and residents are spreading advertisers' messages well beyond Manhattan, using their cell phones and video cameras as they walk through the marketing crossroads of the world.

Karobella, why you have not made more videos from Tampere ??? my camera was stolen and I have no money for new camera, so it can take while before I can put new videos here, but I'll promise you, I'm going to make some new video from Tampere as soon as I can.
