For the parents and educators in the room [...] The worst thing you can do is start a sentence with "back in my day."

Back in your day doesn't matter. What does matter is that you care and that you too are trying to figure out how to make sense of an ever-changing environment,

A historical illustration of an early telephone transmitter or receiver, showing a circular metal frame with various internal components and a handle.

Alexander Graham Bell's interest in the education of deaf individuals led him to develop the microphone and in 1876, what he referred to as an "electrical speech machine", better known today as a telephone.
