HOTTEST AD SPACE IN TIMES SQUARE MAY BE ON TOURISTS' CAMERAS

Advertisers have long been drawn to Times Square as a valuable place to reach consumers, paying hundreds of thousands of dollars for space on billboards and blazing video screens, reports The New York Times.
But recently they have discovered that down on the ground, new technology has given low cost, face-to-face marketing campaigns something of a cutting edge as consumers spread their messages on the Internet.
... As a result of the growing popularity of consumer-generated pictures, videos and e-mail messages on Internet sites like YouTube and MySpace, advertisers are getting consumers to essentially do their jobs for them.

When Target, the discount store operator, suspended the magician David Blaine above Times Square for two days during the week of Thanksgiving, videos shot by viewers were posted on YouTube and viewed more than 19,300 times.
On sites like YouTube, Flickr and MySpace an army of tourists and residents are spreading advertisers' messages well beyond Manhattan, using their cell phones and video cameras as they walk through the marketing crossroads of the world.

Motorola Q Wiki

Introduction

The Motorola Q is a Windows-based mobile phone and e-mail device that fits in your pocket. Fully tricked-out, it can duplicate many of the functions of a computer, including MS document processing, handling business and personal e-mail, accessing the Internet, playing music and more.

Because the possible applications for the Q will always expand, the "ideal" user guide would also be able to grow and change. This wiki is an attempt to do that. It's a place to capture and share the knowledge of the greater community of Q users. If, for example, you have added a new application to your Q, you could post instructions on how you did it here, for the benefit of all Q users.

This site has been established by Motorola for the use of Q users. It has been seeded with the contents of the in-box user guide. Additional content will be provided by Q users as they explore the Q's capabilities.

Netflix Changes Recommendations to Suggestions

Michael noticed that Netflix made a minor change and is now using "suggestions" instead of "recommendations." You have 1093 Suggestions from 658 ratings.

In related news, Kate wants Netflix to "turn off" Netflix recommendations: Please stop with the recommendations. I never look at them. Please stop recommending movies to me. I never look at them. I don't want to look at them, and I don't care what anyone else watches. Please delete them from my account and don't recommend any more ever."

How would you rate the Netflix recommendations, er, suggestions?

Yahoo Implements OpenID; Massive Win For The Project

The rumor last week was that Google (as well as Verisign and IBM) were mulling over the idea of joining the OpenID 2.0 single sign-on framework. But the real news comes today, as Yahoo and its roughly 250 million user IDs officially jump on the bandwagon.
